Dedication

We, the Class of 1965, proudly dedicate this 26th edition of the Epilogue to our class advisor, Mr. David P. Hayes. With the deepest respect and gratitude, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Hayes for his patience, guidance, and understanding which have proved instrumental in helping us attain our goals at B.H.S. He will long be remembered by this class. We are happy and honored to dedicate this Epilogue to Mr. Hayes, a worthy and most loyal advisor. Mr. Hayes, your "troops" say thank you.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, in such a case, would dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly we have suffered the longest Sufferance for the most obvious and grievous Change in our former Governments, and still have borne with them. We are now, therefore, compelled to declare that we have no alternative left, but to throw off the Government which has so long labored under the miseries of Tyranny, and to establish a new one, in which the Principles of Liberty and Justice shall be firmly and permanently established.

We have, therefore, declared our independence, and we have, by the unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States, declared that we are now free, and that we will defend our Liberty and Independence with our Lives and our Property.

Foreword

Often times as we travel life's highway, we tend to forget some of the happiest years of our youth. Through this edition of the '65 Epilogue we hope to preserve in pictures four of the most wonderful years we could ever want to live, our high school years. It seems like only yesterday that we entered as freshmen and looked up at the upperclassmen and vowed that we, too, would someday reach that pinnacle.

Time has passed and has brought us here, to high school graduation. Our years at Bellingham High are now but fond memories, and by this yearbook we trust they will be living memories of the class of 1965.

Pamela Robinson, Co-editor, Frances Sadowski, Editor-In Chief.

About the Staff

In three months there have been many short tempers, large appetites, and feelings of frustration. Our staff has come through it all, spending a great deal of time after school and during vacation, trying to make the '65 Epilogue truly representative of high school life here at Bellingham.

We certainly had some filling times at the meetings, didn't we?

Class History

Freshman Year 1961-1962

In September of 1961, we entered Bellingham High School as the class of 1965. Frightened and awed by the fact that we were finally Freshmen in high school, we viewed our new surroundings with doubt and uncertainty; the tiny eleven-room school looked mighty big to us. Victims of two platooning, we were divided that year, the college course attending the morning session, and the commercial course, the afternoon. We quickly set about electing class officers. Chosen as Freshman leaders, under the direction of class advisors, Mrs. Louise Kelley and Mr. William Conlan, were Ronald Randall, president; Russell Phillips, vice-president, Kathleen Daley, secretary; Ruth Zakrosky, assistant secretary; Patricia Scolavino, treasurer; and Pauline Brothers, assistant treasurer, while Ann Huston and Roger Lariviere represented us in the Student Council. The Senior Get-Acquainted Dance warmly welcomed us to high school life.

The tremendous record of our basketball team overshadowed all other sports events. A perfect Tri-County League record was posted by our Hawks. In the midst of the season we were hit by mid-year exams and took three days off for those severe headaches. But we recuperated in time to hold our biggest and only social event of the year, the Mardi Gras Dance. A huge success, financially and socially, it helped our bank account grow substantially.

The rest of the year passed rapidly, and suddenly it was June and final exams. Who can forget Mr. Conlan and Mr. Fleming, our first class trip to Nantasket, and finally promotion to Sophomore status?

The school year 1962-1963 found us no longer lost and bewildered, but settled and ready to get back into the routine of school life. We were no longer on double sessions. Under the supervision of Mr. David Hayes and Mr. Francis Flynn, we elected Joseph Laplante, president; Brian Hughes, vice-president; Linda Godbout, secretary; and Ruth Zakrosky, treasurer. Student Council representatives were Robert Kass and Carolyn Conte. Soon after, we began planning our Harvest Hop which proved to be another successful social event.

We were rewarded once again by another outstanding basketball team. Our Hawks brought home the Bay State Class C title and advanced to the semifinals in the Tech Tournament at Boston Garden.

Spring arrived and with it the ordering of our class rings. Measurements were taken then. Anxiously, we awaited our Junior year to receive the symbol of upper-classman. June came quickly, and with it exams, our class trip to Rocky Point, and then we were Juniors!

Junior Year 1963-1964

As we entered Bellingham High School in 1963, we were conscious of the fact that we were underclassmen no longer, but full-fledged upperclassmen. We began the year by electing officers. Chosen under the guidance of advisor Mr. Hayes were: Brian Hughes, president; Joseph Laplante, vice-president; Linda Godbout, secretary; Claire Biron, treasurer; and Ronald Lussier and Nancy Belanger, Student Council. Two big and important activities faced us: the publication of the school newspaper, the Student Voice, and the planning of our Junior Prom. Class rings arrived and there were many happy Juniors to be found. In December, we were saddened by the death of our Principal James J. Keough, a member of the Bellingham school system for twenty-five years. Basketball once again highlighted the sports calendar, and we hailed still another championship team. Tri-County League Champs, the Hawks, played the last season of basketball in our small eleven-room school. We just missed by a few weeks, playing in our brand new high school.

February 21, 1964, found us moving into the spacious, new thirty-four room Jr.-Sr. High School. Bright, sparkling facilities greeted us and made work much more pleasant. March and April sped by; and May 15th, the big night, arrived. Fifty-two couples danced to the strains of A Summer Place. Iris Van Heldon was crowned queen and Gerald Wall, king, with Pamela Robinson and Claire Biron in the Queen's court. Without the work of the Prom Committee, headed by Gerald Wall and Carloyn Conte, the affair could never have been such a splendid success.

The year was almost finished; a car wash ended our activities. Could we ever forget Mr. Heron and Mr. Hannigan, gym, cafeteria meals, a faculty basketball game in May, and the thought that we would soon be Seniors?

Seniors at last! After three years of hard work, we finally reached our fourth and final year. Led by Advisor Mr. Hayes, and officers Brian Hughes, president; Robert Kass, vice-president; Denise Savard, secretary; and Claire Biron, treasurer, we quickly set about working to make this a successful and eventful year. Representing us in Student Court were Linda Mostek, Ann Minichiello, Iris Van Helden, and Norman Bardell.

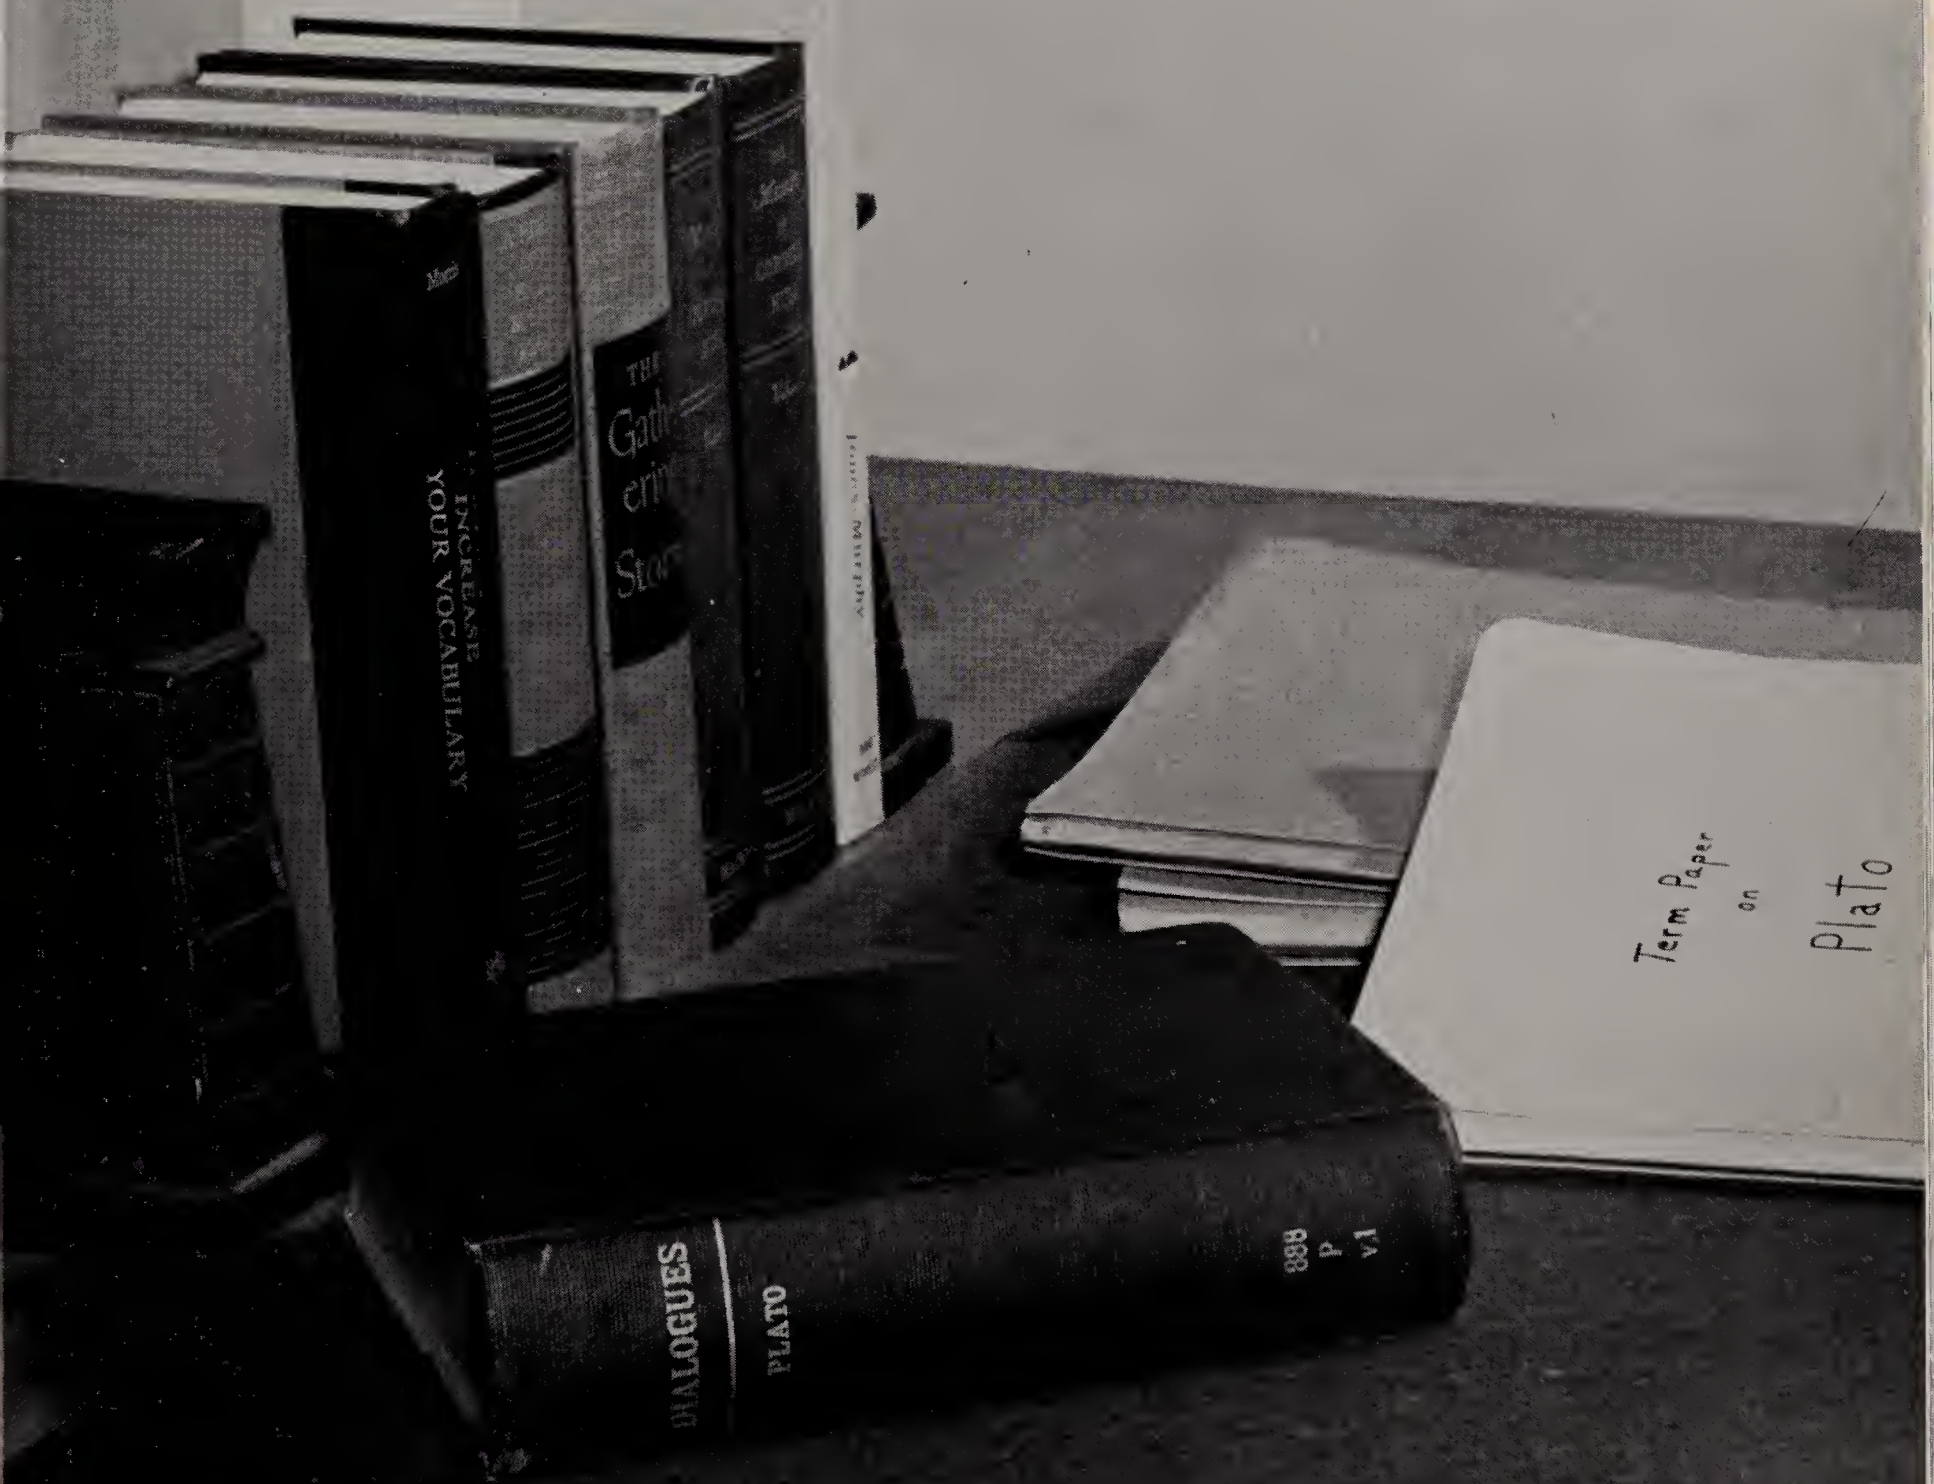

Our first class activity was the annual Senior Get-Acquainted Dance, warmly welcoming the Class of 1969. Mr. Flebotte Day, organized by the class, was proclaimed; the entire student body participated in welcoming our new principal. The newly instituted Senior Program Committee, formed to co-ordinate our class activities, organized a highly successful Turkey Raffle. In the Thanksgiving spirit, the class donated food baskets to needy families in town.

One of the biggest projects of the year was compiling our yearbook, The Epilogue. The biggest edition in B.H.S. history, this book will remain as a lasting reminder of our four-year stay. In January, the staff almost suffered a heart-attack when our advisor, Mr. James Ryan, was called by Uncle Sam, but a few days later we were reassured that he would still be with us.

On the sports scene, our track team made a fine showing this season, a great improvement over last year. In basketball, though no championships were won, we were treated to an exciting and suspense-filled season. Leaving the squad were Seniors Norm Bardell, Bob Kass, and Jerry Wall.

Swiftly, Spring overtook us. Now we are at June's door. Exams are over. Senior week has arrived: our class banquet, yearbook day, our class trip to Ted Hilton's, class day exercises, and our commencement ball. There is only one step left to take, Graduation. Four years ago, it seemed so far away. Now it is here. B.H.S., it was good to know you.

National Honor Society

The "pauci delecti" of Bellingham High were formally inducted into the National Honor Society this year. Based on the students' character, leadership, service, ability, and scholastic achievements, only 29 Juniors and Seniors were selected from hundreds of fellow students. Later in the year particular Sophomores were admitted as probationary members. The advisor to the society is Mr. Joseph DiPietro.

The highlight of the year was the formal induction ceremony held on December 10, 1964. The guest speaker, Dr. John Bowler, Dean of Framingham State College, spoke to us on "Leadership." Friends, relatives, and members of the administration and faculty attended.

In its first year, organization was its aim. Its first project was a "Subject-Inform" program for the benefit of the entire student body. The program consisted of an explanation of each course to be offered next September. The value of each course was clearly displayed in dramatic form. It was felt that the student body would be able to learn and retain more course information through a dramatic presentation rather than a lecture series.

The club owes its existence to our late principal James J. Keough who decided to initiate the program two years ago. He drew up the Society's present charter and named us "pauci delecti", the chosen few.

Future Nurses of America

The Future Nurses Association was organized to bring together all high school students who are interested in nursing as a profession.

In the past the club has taken field trips to such hospitals as Framingham Union, Burbank, and Boston Children's and has helped in community projects. Last year a speaker, from Pondville Hospital, spoke to the club and various movies were presented showing the duties of a nurse.

The membership of the club is constantly growing and this year there are 30 members.

Future Teachers of America

The decision concerning the profession we will spend our lives practicing is a big one. The Future Teachers of America is made up of students exploring the teaching profession. The activities of the club are keyed to expose different phases of this profession to the students. This year the club visited Framingham State College, participated in a student teaching program at the Pinecrest School and viewed various films on the teaching profession. The club initiated the candy selling program at home basketball games and sponsored an F.T.A. Dance. In addition, April was observed as Teacher Career Month and many noteworthy activities were held.

The club had its start four years ago under the guidance of Mrs. Kelley and since then has continued to develop and expand with each new member added. The main objective of the organization is to relate to the student the education, obligations and the role of a teacher in today's society.

Mr. Hayes and Brian Hughes present the Program Committee's ideas.

The Senior Class Committee was initiated this year under the direction of Mr. David Hayes, Senior Class Advisor. A cross-section of the class was chosen and Chairman, Verne Marchand, and Co-Chairman, Nancy Belanger were elected by the committee. One of its first activities was a Turkey Raffle. Later it was voted to give three Thanksgiving baskets to needy families in town.

"Our best salesmen"

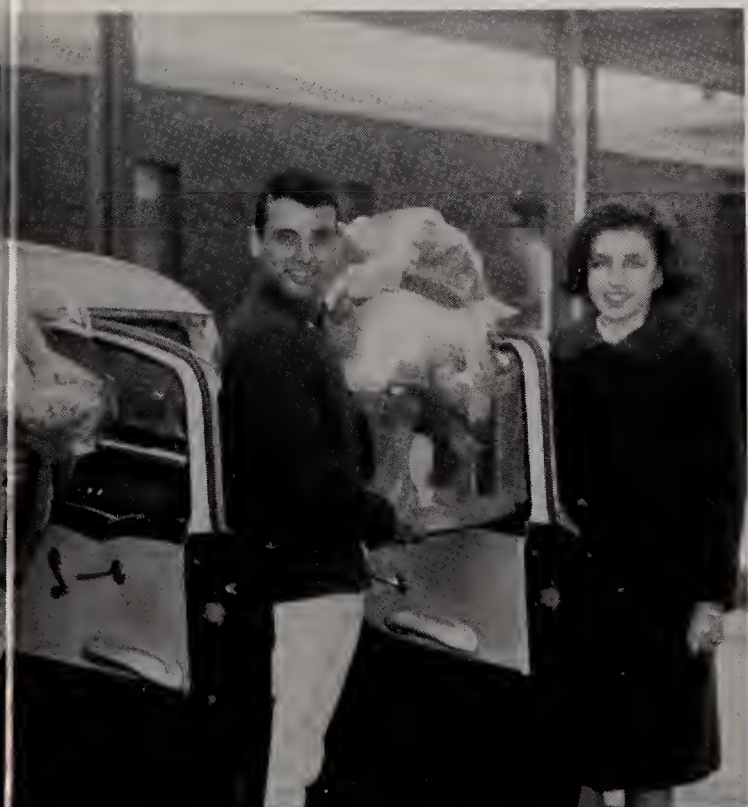

At Christmas time a delegation of Seniors traveled to South School and erected a Christmas tree. The next day a party was held for the special class and was gratefully acknowledged by the children.

A successful food sale was held in March. Two car washes, held in March and April, not only helped the class, but were a lot of fun.

Practice every day

A vun, an a two, an a . . .

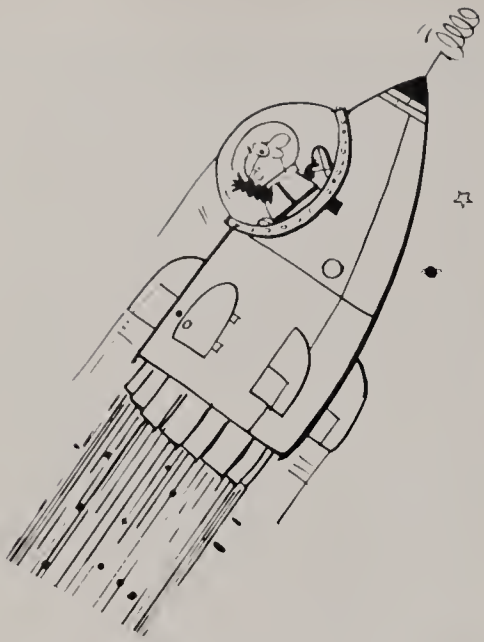

The school band has certainly expanded since it was first formed a few years ago. During the past year the band has performed publicly on eleven occasions. There are approximately 40 members in the band now and Director John G. Clegg hopes to increase that number so as to form a really "big" high school band. New background instruments have been purchased for the group to make the music even more enjoyable. The Band has performed at many of the basketball games adding a real flavor to the games. Our school can certainly be proud of this Band and we wish them continued success in the years to come at B.H.S.

At least pretend!

Basketball

Although the Blackhawks didn't bring home any championships this season, they did reward the home fans with spirit, fight, and suspense. Led by Captain Glenn Gariepy, the Hawks compiled a record of 9 wins and 12 losses, with Gariepy scoring more than half of the team's total points. Seniors Bob Kass and Norm Bardell starred defensively for the Hawks. All three were selected for Tri-County League All-Star honors, Gariepy chosen unanimously.

Highlights of the season were many, beginning with the Hawks hosting area schools in the annual Jamboree. In the first of two annual classics, the varsity entertained Franklin High School for the James J. Keough Trophy, finally surrendering it after a hard-fought battle. The second special contest featured the Hawks and neighboring Woonsocket High School, and though our club fought valiantly, they were finally outscored by the bigger Villa Novan team. In League competition, the Hawks whipped Blackstone twice to retain the Merchant's Retail Trade Board Trophy and almost scored a major upset by nearly defeating league-leading Norton. After the annual All-Star classic held at Bellingham, the team entered the Bay State Tournament, Class C, and was pitted against St. Mary's of Milford. A real battle, the game was close until the final seconds when the boys found themselves on the short end of a 61 to 58 score.

Though the Class of '65 leaves with two of the five starting players, Coach Flynn can look forward to a well-seasoned ball club next year with many underclassmen returning with valuable playing experience. The forecast is a championship team.

Even with a record of 8 wins and 12 losses, our freshman-studded Jay-Vee basketball team, under the steady hand of Coach Roger Canestrari, will undoubtedly prove valuable to next year's varsity Hawks. Six of the eight wins came in the last eight games. The peak of the Jay-Vee's success was the overthrowing of the top-rated Nipmuc, Jay-Vee team.

The team was comprised of freshmen and a few sophomores. Skip Hachey and Dick Dupre, Jay-Vee starters, also helped the varsity tremendously. Laprade, Wall, Sears, Long, Grey, and Carr are also future varsity prospects.

Next year's Jay-Vee team should be a top-contender in the Tri-County League, with veterans Bowser, Bokoski, Fleury, Crepeau, Galuza, Lamarre, Deverge, and Zinno returning to lead the junior Hawks to a victorious season.

Up, up goes Jeff Bowzer for this tap-off against Nipmuc.

Top scorer Dick Sears sets to tally another point for the J.V.'s.

Cheerleaders

The B.H.S. Cheerleaders, many of whom are Seniors, have been giving their all for the 'Blackhawk Five' this season. Our girls have displayed their good sportsmanship by cheering the team on through defeat as well as victory.

Because this was the first year the new gym was available, the cheerleaders were able to hold a number of pep-rallies which resulted in great team and school spirit. They finished the season by entering the All-Star Cheerleader's Tournament with Bellingham as host school.

Susan Zagrodny, Linda Godbout, Clair Biron, Elaine Canestrari, Gail Gariepy, Connie Kornicki, Betsy Crouse, Christine Zeneri, Carolyn Conte.

Now, who are the Juniors and who are the Seniors?

... of you know about the exploits of Walker on the basketball court, so here's some vital information on a UConn sophomore who is being called superstar material.

Connecticut trailed Harvard at halftime and ending by only a 61-59 score when it ran off 17 points to get the verdict. Bialosuknia started with a scoring spree with 11 points.

markers. He

JUNIORS TOP SENIORS IN ANNUAL CONTEST

An SRO crowd of Bellingham High students packed the school gym November 25, 1964, 7th period to watch the annual Jr.-Sr. basketball game. A stronger and better balanced Junior squad whipped the Senior group, bolstered by underclassmen to make up for a lack of Senior participants. Both players and fans got a glimpse of the fine spirit that would prevail throughout the entire season.

The 6-2 guard from Poughkeepsie (NY) is the best scoring sophomore in Connecticut history with 490 points in 23 games, an average of 21.3 per game. He led the UConn in scoring and also matched some court record for field goals with 17 when he scored 37 times against Boston University.

During the year he hit 198 field goals and 94 free throws.

You can see that Walker is not going to have a bright future in the near future.

SEASON'S HIGHLIGHT

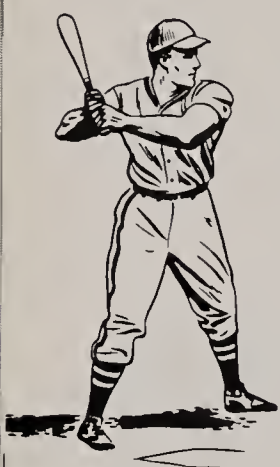

On March 5, 1965, the Bellingham High School gym was packed for the big event, the annual Faculty-Varsity game. Costumed in every type of sports apparel known, the apparently energetic faculty trooped onto the floor only to bring roars of laughter into the gym. After introductions, the faculty, trying to duplicate their feats of years gone by, settled down to a tight battle with the varsity, the younger and more agile varsity just nipping the tiring faculty.

Hey, that's not fair!

OUTFIELDERS: S. Aucoin, D. Spas, G. Gariepy, D. Mendoza, R. Kass, M. Lavallee.

This year, under the coaching of Roger Canestrari, the baseball team is optimistically looking forward to the 1965 season. Bolstered by the return of nine veterans, the Blackhawk nine have their sights set on a winning season. In addition to the returning veterans there are a number of promising underclassmen that Coach Canestrari thinks will be a great asset to the team. Despite the number of veterans returning, there are only two seniors on the relatively young squad, co-captains Norm Bardell and Bob Kass.

One of the highlights of the '65 season will be the possibility of playing on the new High School diamond.

Girls' Basketball

Who has the rebound?

In the first season of organized girls' basketball at Bellingham High School, the girls' team, guided by Mrs. Carol Bishop, made a fine first impression on the Tri-County League and on the school fans, finishing in second place in League competition. With a record on 10 wins and 4 losses, the Hawkettes tallied 492 points with only 378 scored against them.

Losing high scorer Donna Sahagain and top-rated guard Betty Breault will prove to be a great handicap to next year's team, but Mrs. Bishop feels that how aggressive the girls are next season will determine their success.
